CRIMINAL BEHAVIORS
Impacts, Tools and Social Networks

Selection of Papers Presented at the II^ International Congress of the Advanced High School of Criminological Sciences.

2013 | MILAN | ITALY

Puccia, Puccia, Tosi (eds.)

FDE INSTITUTE PRESS
Publisher
FDE Institute Press®
Via Sandro Pertini n. 6
46100 Mantova – Loc. Colle Aperto| Italy
Phone: +39.0376.415683
Fax: +39.0376.413135
E-Mail: crimen@istitutofde.it

Editing
Press UP - Varigrafica Alto Lazio S.A.S.
Di Massimo Adario e C.
Via Amerina - 01036 Nepi (VT)

Copyright © 2014
All rights reserved.
It is prohibited the partial reproduction of text and illustrations.

People interested in FDE Institute Press® can consult the website: www.istitutofde.it
CRIMINAL BEHAVIORS
Impacts, Tools and Social Networks

Selection of Papers Presented at the II^ International Congress of the Advanced High School of Criminological Sciences.

ISBN (softcover)
978-88-9737-805-1

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without prior written permission of the publisher. Whilst the authors, editors and publisher have tried to ensure the accuracy of this publication, the publisher, authors and editors cannot accept responsibility for any errors, omissions, misstatements, or mistakes and accept no responsibility for the use of the information presented in this work.

© FDE Institute Press 2014
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword, by Angelo Puccia ..................................................11

Welcome from the Honorary of the Congress CRINVE 2013, by Robert D. Hare .................................15

Aggressive Behaviour in Psychopathy: a Neurocognitive Perspective, by Stefano Barlati ......17

The Evaluation of Personality Disorders in the Context of Italian Juvenile Criminal Justice: a Criminological Analysis, by Raffaele Bianchetti ......109

The Cosmologies of Violence. A Radical Interactionist Approach, by Adolfo Ceretti, Lorenzo Natali .................................................................171

Observations on Criminal Versatility Start From the Clinical Experience at the Intensified Treatment Unit for Authors of Sexual Crime (at the Milano-Bollate Prison), by Luigi Colombo ......207
Offender Mental Health Developments in England and Wales: Nothing Endures but Change, by Andrew Forrester........................................221

The Objective and Coded Causes for the Exclusion of the Offense, by Gian Luca Giovannini..............................................................237

Treatment for Sex Offenders in Prison. The Experience of the Intensified Treatment Unit in Milano-Bollate Prison, by Paolo Giulini, Laura Emiletti......................................................................................253

Two Philosophical Questions About Psychopathy, by Luca Malatesti, John McMillan........277

Personological Features Of White Collar Crime: Theoretical Backgrounds Of Assessment Projects, by Isabella Merzagora Betsos, Ambrogio Pennati, Guido Vittorio Travaini.........................................................301

The “Sound” Dimension in Satanic Crimes: an History of the Infamous “Track”, by Giovan Battista Ivan Polichetti .................................................................319
Neurobiology and Psychodynamics in Cannibalism: From Mythic Anthropophagus to Infamous Serial Killer, by Giovan Battista Ivan Polichetti .................................................................329

Women in Prison in Italy, by Luisa Ravagnani, Nicoletta Policek .................................................................339

Emilia Romagna Guidance on Severe Personality Disorders, by Michele Sanza ............373

Treatment of Mentally Ill Offenders Not Guilty by Reason of Insanity (NGRI), by Franco Scarpa, Benedetta Vittoria, Tommasa Agueci ............................ 383

Vulnerability Factor and Infant Traumas in Drug Addiction. A Psychotherapeutic Group Model Inside a Penitentiary, by Alessandra Stringi ............397

Imprisoned Motherhood. From Law to Good Practices, by Marzia Tosi.................................................................423

Efficacy Measurement in Penitentiary Treatment: a Methodology to Meet the Requirements of Current Legislation, by Gian Piero Turchi, Pinto Eleonora, Anna Girardi, Luisa Orrù .................................................................437

Remembering and Lying in Relation to Crime: Clinical and Research Implications, by Stefano Zago, Manuela Fumagalli, Silvia Inglese, Irene Rossetti, Giuseppe Sartori, Alberto Priori, Andrea Lavazza ..........479

FDE Institute of Criminology Mantua.................................523
After the first edition in Mantua (2010), FDE Institute of Criminology in the 2013 (May, 10-12) launched in Milan its II\textsuperscript{nd} International Congress “CRIMINAL BEHAVIORS. Impacts, Tools and Social Networks”.

Three days conference that had the pleasure to have Robert D. Hare, Emeritus Professor of Psychology, University of British Columbia, as Honorary President (CRINVE 2013). He delighted the more than 250 participants with a wonderful opening lectio magistralis on psychopathy construct, and after this, he gave us further magnificent testimonials about his long research based experience.

More than 70 speeches alternated during that full-immersion week-end. Plenary sessions with keynote speakers like Stefan Bogaerts (Tilburg University), Julia Davidson and Antonia Bifulco (Kingston University London), Andrew Forrester (King’s College London), Vittoria Ardino (London School of Economics), Nuria Querol (Gevha Barcelona) just to list the European ones. From Italy important contributions came from the Italian Society of Criminology, that we thank for its sponsorship, especially professors Isabella Merzagora Betsos, Adolfo Ceretti and Carlo Alberto Romano for their sincere support. Another particular thanksgiving is due to Vincenzo Caretti (President of PCL-R Italy) and all his colleagues from Enna, Palermo and Rome Universities.

Criminal behaviors linked to personality disorders, like psychopathy or antisocial personality disorder, are a serious problems for our modern society in terms of assessment and treatment as well as for victims safeguard. Many studies are been conducted by researchers from criminological, psychological and psychiatric fields on how to better assess and manage offenders with severe personality disorders.

The manuscript, as the congress as well, proposes to academics and practitioners interesting research and theoretical papers written by some of the most important speakers presenting in Milan.

I will not singularly introduce articles hosted within the volume, I prefer you will go deep inside all of them in order to appreciate contents and authors’ ideas represented.

As General Coordinator of the Scientific Programme Committee, I was privileged to be able to edit this collection, even if it took me and my assistants Gabriele Puccia and Marzia Tosi a long time to be ready. For me it meant to work closely with so many serious and high level scientists.
Without the help of the two colleagues mentioned above and many others such as Stefano Barlati, Anthony J. Pinizzotto, Giuseppe Sandri, Luigi Caracciolo, Mauro Bardi, Alessandra Morselli, Corrado Benatti, Elisa Corbari, Ilaria Squinzani, the congress, as well as this book, would have not been possible. I am deeply indebted with my director and wife Francesca Savazzi. I am grateful for her reliable and efficient support and the encouragement during the year of preparation of the congress and during the most of the work in the Institute of Criminology of Mantova.

Mantova, 19th December 2014
Welcome from the Honorary of the Congress CRINVE 2013

Robert D. Hare

I had the good fortune of being named Honorary President of the 2nd International Congress of Criminological Sciences: "Criminal Behaviours. Impacts, Tools and Social Networks," organized by the Advanced High School of Criminological Sciences at the FDE Institute of Mantova.

The Congress will bring together researchers, clinicians, mental health, criminal justice and human resources personnel, and interested members of the public, to learn about and to discuss the latest theory and research on antisociality and psychopathy and their impact on society.

Besides having distinguished speakers and an excellent program, the Congress will be unique in its breadth and depth.

That is, it will address recent advances in which integration of behavioural genetics, developmental psychopathology, assessment, treatment, victimology, neuroscience, and lessons from clinical practice, the corporate world, and the legal system helps us to understand and deal with antisociality and psychopathic traits in both criminal and noncriminal contexts.

---

1 Emeritus Professor of Psychology, University of British Columbia. Author of the PCL-R (Psychopathy Check-List – Revised). President of Darkstone Research Group Ltd.

The goal of the organizers is not only to provide a forum for discussing these advances, but to foster interdisciplinary and international collaborative research on understanding and reducing the consequences to society of antisocial and psychopathic behaviour.

On behalf of Angelo Puccia, Coordinator of the Congress, and the members of the Supervisory Committee, I would like to invite all those with an interest in the topics and goals of the Congress to join us on May 10-12, 2013.

What could be better than an important and interesting scientific meeting that also has practical implications for society, is located in the wonderful city of Milan, is accompanied by renowned Italian hospitality, food and wine, and that offers many opportunities for research and social interactions with other participants.